

Thank You For Your Support of Emma's Dream Room Makeover

In every sense of the word, Emma is a fighter! She is also very sweet, shy, sassy and free-spirited. What a beautiful little girl who deserves some happiness in her life. She is still in treatment, but she is also finally home to enjoy her new dream space after spending more than two years at the hospital!

When all of us left after the reveal, mom captured a photo of Emma in her new dream bedroom that is just so special.

Thank you all for everything you did to help Emma receive her dream space!

Emma loves her pink and girly new room!

The Family Very Much Appreciates Rooms of Hope and The Spaces That Were Created for Emma and Her Two Sisters...

Hi Shelley,

I hope things are well. I wanted to take the time to thank you once again for all you have done to make this makeover possible for us. It still doesn't feel real. After everyone left, I kept entering every room admiring everything that was done. I still can't believe this is really our spaces. Emma especially loves her room. She spent the whole night in her bed with her iPad-just hanging out. She knows it's her room, and not her sisters. She won't even allow any of her sisters in her room-I'm not sure if that's a good thing or a bad thing. I love every detail that was done in her room, from picking out the cute little ballerina doll, to the throw pillows. My favorite of all would be the canopy bed, and I think Emma would agree. I also love the color tones. It brings so much more natural light into the room. It's just overall so beautiful, I can't really believe it's ours! It just feels so special and so right. She deserves this, and it makes me so happy for her.

You guys did such an amazing job. It feels like a room right out of HGTV makeovers. The other girls loves, loves their rooms as well. Jazlynn's room was exactly as I had imagined it to be. She will definitely grow into her room in the years to come. The desk is a perfect size for her, and she already gathered all her school supplies and books. She also started doing her artwork last night after everyone left.

Isabelle also loves her room. She says her favorite part is her bed. She tells me she needs privacy, kicked me out and closed the door, lol. This is priceless. Naomi did a great job designing all of this. Please let her know how grateful I am to have had her as our designer. Everything is perfect. The playroom is one of my favorite rooms now. I love the inviting carpet, and the elegant white table. Emma has already put it to great use.

I am happy that they now have their own sanctuary to go to. This means so much to me. I feel so complete. I am forever grateful for the love that I have felt from everyone from your team. Not only did you all revamp the girl's rooms, you guys took the time to clean out some of my things in the house which has been neglected for some time now. Yes, I noticed! I noticed the new light bulbs in the kitchen, the clutter that is now gone in the living room shelf, and everything placed neater than it was before. How special and kind is that? You all will forever hold a special place in my heart. I hope that when we are more stable with Emma's care, we will be able to give back to the community like you and your special team has. It has definitely opened our eyes to give more service and charity to others. Thank you for this opportunity, and for serving us. I just wished there was something I could do for you and your team. Please let me know if I could ever be of any assistance to you.

Love always,

Heather Yang
